Paeonia Officinalis

These are the old-fashioned Paeony so much loved by our grandmothers. They rival the rose in color and in fragrance.

50c each; $5.00 per dozen

Paeonia Officinalis Rubra—This is the deep crimson variety so much admired. Blossoms ten days ahead of the other varieties. Sometimes called Decoration Day Paeony.
Paeony Officinalis Rosea—Earliest; pink.
The Tulips

No flower surpasses, or even equals, the Tulip in beauty and gracefulness of form and brilliancy of color. It is superb for borders, about the foundation of the house, and, when massed, produces the most delightful effects. Without these bulbs, one or two months of beautiful Spring weather our gardens would present a bare appearance. We know of nothing that for the money invested will give a more gorgeous showing during the early Spring. For Fall Planting Only.

The Narcissus (Daffodils)

These splendid Spring flowering bulbs have been highly esteemed in Europe for many years, and are yearly gaining favor in America. Growing in almost every location—sun or shade, moist or dry—they need very little watering, and absolutely no care after they have blossomed.

40c per doz.; $2.50 per hundred; $18 per thousand

Double Narcissus
Orange Phoenix—Yellow orange; good for forcing.
Sulphur Phoenix—Silver white; finest of the double Narcissus.

Fine Mixed White—Different varieties.
Fine General Mixed—Different varieties and colors.

The Irises (Fleur-de-lis)

For the wild garden, shrubbery, border, and margins of water, there is no better and more beautiful plant than the Iris. They grow in clumps, and thrive wonderfully in almost any soil—even in marshy ground. They bloom early, and in their coloring the variety is endless. We have them in all sorts of shades and colors, and our stock this year is the grandest we have ever grown. The following list was selected from over one hundred varieties growing in our nurseries.

Price: Strong Clumps, 25c each; $2.50 per dozen

The St. Regis Everbearing Raspberry

A wonderful Everbearing Raspberry. Best for the fruit grower, best red for family use, a true continuous cropper, continuing to bear from early June until late frosts. The following description of it is not overdrawn, and we feel confident that you will be more than pleased with it, especially if you have grown other varieties of raspberries.

It is the earliest of all raspberries, beginning to ripen in Northern New York from June 15th to 20th, just as the strawberry crop is waning. It is wonderfully prolific, the first or main crop being far greater than that of any other variety known, equaling the most prolific blackcap or purple cane sort. It gives a crop of fruit all summer and autumn, fruiting on the old canes until late in August. By this date, the berries begin to ripen upon the young canes, which continue to produce berries in increasing numbers until late autumn, in fact, until severe frosts occur.

The berries are bright crimson, of large size, of surpassing quality, rich, sugary, with full Raspberry flavor; they are of exceedingly meaty, firm texture, and keep in good condition longer after being gathered than any other.

English Walnut Trees

Rochester Grown
Hardy—Thrive Everywhere

The large and growing demand for English Walnuts, as is evidenced by increasing importations and advancing prices, promises much for the future profitableness of this crop, and it is no more difficult to grow them successfully in the Northern States than it is in California and Oregon. English Walnuts are now grown successfully in Monroe County, N. Y., and there are several large and productive orchards between Rochester and Buffalo. There are also many English Walnut trees planted on lawns here in Rochester, producing bountifully each year, delicious nuts, without any special attention, the character of the soil being entirely ignored.

We offer for Fall and Spring planting a fine stock of hardy Rochester-grown trees, which may be seen by paying a visit to our nursery.

- Mayo—3 ft., $1.50 each; $12.00 per dozen; $75.00 per hundred.
- Mayette—2-3 ft., 75c each; $8.00 per dozen; $60.00 per hundred.
- Persian Dwarf Prolific—2-3 ft., 75c each; $7.50 per dozen; $50.00 per hundred.
- Pomeroy—2-3 ft., 75c each; $15.00 per dozen; $100.00 per hundred.
